Featuring: Lauren Glickman

When we repeatedly witness the hardship or trauma of others as a normal part of our workday, we are presented with unique challenges to our emotional and physical well-being.

Lauren has been working in emotionally intense environments for over 20 years and brings a breadth and depth of understanding to this work. Lauren specializes in working with individuals and groups who are repeatedly faced with the hardship or trauma of others due to the nature of the work they do.

Being able to effectively manage high negative arousal is crucial for those of us working in high-stakes environments. This is true at every level of organizations from front-line staff to executives.
